Sir David Orr
President of the Board
The British Council

GREAT BRITAIN

Dear Sir David:

It is a pleasure to thank you for the hospitality my wife and I enjoyed in our recent trip to London.

I think that the program prepared by the British Council was very well arranged and made excellent use of the time available. My contacts with British University authorities on the matter of financial aspects of academic activity were very profitable. My visits to the BBC and to the Open University, apart from being very interesting in themselves, have served us to give a clearer perspective to our own projects. The Director of our Department of TV Education (Teleduc), is now making a trip to Great Britain, which may be considered as a follow-up of my own visit.

My wife joins me to thank you. We both enjoyed our lunch appointment, and the opportunity of making interesting acquaintances and renewing old ones. We hope to see you in Chile.

Yours truly,

JUAN DE DIOS VIAL CORREA
