

NOV. 8 91

13:25

P. 1/1

Springer-Verlag New York, Inc.

Springer-Verlag New York, Inc.
175 Fifth Avenue
New York, NY 10010, USA
Telefax: 212 473-6272
Telephone: 212 460-1500

FACSIMILE TRANSMISSION MEMORANDUM

FAX#: No. Pages:

November 8, 1991 13:55 PM

To: Maria Luisa Arenas Franco, Library Director, Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Chile,
 Direccion Del Sistema De Biblioteca
 FAX: 56-2-5521415

From: Maarten N. Asser, Manager, Publishing Operations, Springer-Verlag New York
Re: Your fax of October 25th 1991

Dear Mrs. Franco.

Thank you very much for your letter of October 25, 1991.

I understand that you are interested in providing a service to your library customers, to distribute copies of articles of Springer-Verlag journals. The clientele does not only consist of Professors and scholars of the University, but also of "external" users.

According to the Copyright Laws, a single copy can be made by each individual scholar for educational use only. However, if your library would offer this service for the individual scholar, and do this on a regular basis, copyright permission must be obtained from the original copyright holder. The copyright holder may charge for the use of the journal article, if it so pleases.

Therefore, I must conclude that you may indeed offer this service to your customers from inside or outside the University, but you may have to charge them for the actual copy and for the copyright fee, which will have to be paid to the Copyright Holder.

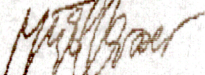

In order for us to find out what kind of fee is appropriate for the use that your customers are making of our copyrighted material, I would like to know if you charge the clients anything for the copies itself.

Also, I will be interested to know a little bit more about the total volume under discussion here. How many copies of articles, from Springer-Verlag journals do you make for your customers on a monthly or weekly basis??

If you can possibly provide me with this kind of information, I am sure that we can come to an amicable arrangement.

Thank you once again for contacting us directly with this problem.

Yours sincerely,

Maarten N. Asser
Manager
Publishing Operations

NOV. 8 '91 13:25

P. 1 / 1

Springer-Verlag New York, Inc.

Springer-Verlag New York, Inc.
175 Fifth Avenue
New York, NY 10010, USA
Telefax: 212 473-6272
Telephone: 212 460-1500

FACSIMILE TRANSMISSION MEMORANDUM

FAX#: No. Pages:
November 8, 1991 12:55 PM

To: Maria Luisa Arenas Franco, Library Director, Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Chile,
Direccion Del Sistema De Biblioteca
FAX: 56-2-5521415

From: Maarten N. Asser, Manager, Publishing Operations, Springer-Verlag New York
Re: Your fax of October 25th 1991

Dear Mrs. Franco.

Thank you very much for your letter of October 25, 1991.

I understand that you are interested in providing a service to your library customers, to distribute copies of articles of Springer-Verlag journals. The clientele does not only consist of Professors and scholars of the University, but also of "external" users.

According to the Copyright Laws, a single copy can be made by each individual scholar for educational use only. However, if your library would offer this service for the individual scholar, and do this on a regular basis, copyright permission must be obtained from the original copyright holder. The copyright holder may charge for the use of the journal article, if it so pleases.

Therefore, I must conclude that you may indeed offer this service to your customers from inside or outside the University, but you may have to charge them for the actual copy and for the copyright fee, which will have to be paid to the Copyright Holder.

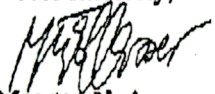

In order for us to find out what kind of fee is appropriate for the use that your customers are making of our copyrighted material, I would like to know if you charge the clients anything for the copies itself.

Also, I will be interested to know a little bit more about the total volume under discussion here. How many copies of articles, from Springer-Verlag journals do you make for your customers on a monthly or weekly basis??

If you can possibly provide me with this kind of information, I am sure that we can come to an amicable arrangement.

Thank you once again for contacting us directly with this problem.

Yours sincerely,

Maarten N. Asser
Manager
Publishing Operations