Dr. Vial Correa also informed me about the International Clinical Epidemiological Network, I am particularly worried because apparently you are particularly interested in epidemiology. I hope to deal with epidemiology development. I hope that this project will be a priority for the Foundation.

Epidemiology is considered a high priority in the development of that school. In fact the Department of Epidemiology was created a few months ago. It was headed by a very well known epidemiologist, Dr. Juan J. Giacomi, B.S., M.Sc. in Epidemiology, Administration and Health Planning, U. of London. Precisely because of his qualities, last week he was appointed Minister of Health in the Government. The Dean of the Medical School is presently trying to find a formula to face this unexpected situation.
