Dear Monsenor Casanueva,

You may remember that towards the end of last year, following an introduction from Mr. A. Loveday of the Anglo-Chilean Society, we wrote to you and sent you some information about the Newman Association.

The Newman Association is the association of Catholic University Graduates in Britain, closely linked with the Union of Catholic Students which has branches in all the Universities and University Colleges in England, Scotland and Wales. Both the Newman Association and the Union of Catholic Students are affiliated to PAX ROMANA and pursue an active programme of international co-operation.

We are most anxious to maintain close contacts with the Catholic Universities of the South American Continent, and would be grateful for copies of your publications.

We send you herewith enclosed the two last issues of our own publication "Unitas". In the July issue there is a short article on the Cardinal Newman College in Chile.

A lot of South American visitors are coming over here under the auspices of the British Council and we should be glad if you would let us know if there are any Catholic graduates coming from Chile. As it happens, Mr. A.J. Montague, who is representative of the British Council in South America, is a member of the Newman Association.

Yours sincerely,

B.A. McShane
